Social Networking Policy

POLICY

Stranton Academy Trust recognises that employees have the right to access social networking sites for personal communications. This policy gives guidance and advice on how employees should conduct themselves and control and monitor information stored on such sites.

Scope and Purpose

This procedure applies to all employees of Stranton Academy Trust.

Social networking sites allow users to build on-line profiles, share information, music and photographs, however users are reminded that information uploaded onto such sites, may be viewed by others even if it appears to be “private” or is stored within a closed profile or group. Information that you do not wish others to view should not be uploaded in such a public domain and staff should ensure that their security settings are maintained at an appropriate level.

1.0 Introduction

Stranton Academy Trust is committed to ensuring that all staff are aware of their responsibilities in connection with the growing use of social networking sites. It recognises that the use of such sites have become a very significant part of life for many people. They provide a positive way to keep in touch with friends and colleagues, and can be used to exchange ideas and thoughts on common interests. Examples of such sites include, but are not limited to, blogs (short for web log), Twitter, Google Plus, Flickr, MySpace, Facebook, Bebo, YouTube, Windows Live Spaces, MSN, forums, bulletin boards, multiplayer online gaming, chat rooms and instant messenger’, this list however is by no means exhaustive

Staff are expected to keep a professional distance from pupils and there should be a clear separation of the private social lives of staff and that of pupils. There is no need for social networking to go on between staff and pupils and there is no clear educational benefit. Staff should also ensure that their relationships and interactions with colleagues when using social networking sites remain appropriate and professional.

It is important that staff are able to use technologies and services effectively and flexibly whilst ensuring that they do not make themselves vulnerable. However, it is also important to ensure that this is balanced with the Governing Body’s duty to safeguard children, the reputation of the school, the wider community and the Local Authority.

6.0 Use of Social Networking Sites

For employees' own security all communication via social networking sites should be made with the awareness that anything said, shown or received could be made available, intentionally or otherwise, to an audience wider than that originally intended. It is therefore advised that staff follow the following procedures:

- Staff must adhere to the schools own usage policy in relation to accessing social networking sites for personal use via school information systems or using school equipment;
- Staff must not accept pupils as friends – personal communication could be considered inappropriate and unprofessional and makes staff vulnerable to allegations;
- Staff are advised not to be friends with recent pupils. The potential for staff to be compromised in terms of wall content and open to accusations makes the risk not worth taking;
- Staff should not place inappropriate photographs on any social network space;
- Staff should not post indecent remarks;
- If a member of staff receives messages on his/her social networking profile that they think could be from a pupil, or becomes exposed to any information that relates to the School or another member of staff, they must report it to their Line Manager/Headteacher and contact the internet service or social networking provider so that they can investigate and take the appropriate action;
- Staff should not write about their place of work/ colleagues and pupils. Should a member of staff do so he/she will be in breach of this policy.

- Staff must not disclose information or work such as lesson plans, presentations, project work etc. that could be considered to be the intellectual property of the School
- Staff must not disclose any information that is confidential to the school or disclose personal data or information about any individual/colleague/pupil, which could be in breach of the Data Protection Act;
- Staff must not disclose any information about the school/Local Authority that is not yet in the public arena;
- In no circumstances should staff post photographs of pupils;
- Staff should not make defamatory remarks about the school/colleagues/pupils or the Local Authority or post anything that could potentially bring the school/Local Authority into disrepute;
- Staff should not disclose confidential information relating to his/her employment at the school or indicate any political allegiances
- Care should be taken to avoid using language which could be deemed as offensive, derogatory or inappropriate to others.
- Staff should not post information or comments, or engage in any discussions that could be interpreted as bullying, harassment or discrimination of any description.
- Staff should not join any online groups that could be considered to condone or promote inappropriate behaviours or post inappropriate content.

7.0 Breaches of the Policy

Stranton Academy Trust does not discourage staff from using social networking sites and appreciates that there may be occasions where such sites can be used as an effective business tool. However, all staff should be aware that the Trust Board will take seriously any occasions where the services are used inappropriately. If occasions arise of what could be deemed to be online bullying, harassment, defamation or misconduct of any description, these will be dealt with in the same way as other such instances occurring “offline”.

Under the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act 2000 (RIPA), the Headteacher can exercise his/her right to monitor the use of the school’s information systems and internet access where he/she believes unauthorised use may be taking place; to ensure compliance with regulatory practices; to ensure standards of service are maintained; to prevent or detect crime; to protect the communication system and to pick up messages when someone is away from school. If any such monitoring detects the unauthorised use of social networking sites disciplinary action will be taken.
